There is an admission fee of $10, and a small charge each session for contingencies. Fuel and lights are furnished at cost, and washing at 37½ cents per dozen. The necessary college expenses of a boarding student will not exceed $180 or $190 per annum. All the bills are payable one half at the beginning, and the balance at the middle of the session.

With a view of giving to the different departments of instruction a wider extension, and at the ments of instruction a wider extension, and at the same time of meeting a public want by rendering the advantage of the college available to a larger number and a more varied class of students, some important changes have been made in the order and arrangement of the students. A new course has been adopted, styled the Scientific Course, and the degree of Batchelor of Philosophy (B. P.) attached in the will occur about there wars and tached to it. It will occupy about three years, and will embrace all the studies of the regular course for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, with the exception of the ancient languages. This course will be specially adapted to those who wish to obtain what is called a practical education, as the mathematical and scientific studies will have greater prominence than usual, particularly in their application to the arts and business of life. Those who may wish to become practical surveyors, engineers, or agriculturists, will be enabled, with the advice of the faculty, to select their studies with special reference to those objects, and will receive the aid of lectures and illustrations. The doors of the College will also be opened to those who may wish, under its general regulations, to pursue any branch of study for any length of time. They may, under the direction of the faculty, select such subjects as are suited to their views and objects in life, and, on examination, may receive a regular certificate of their standing and proficiency in the DROSPECTUS OF THE UNITED States Illustrated.—Under the title of the ed States Illustrated, has been commenced the publication of a great national work, of a ver the publication of a great national work, of a very costly and magnificent description, for which the liberal patronage of the American public is confidently expected. It will appear in parts with such promptitude that two volumes will be completed before the close of the present year. These volumes will be issued simultaneously, one being explaintly also that the other to western and the other to we the other to w dusively devoted to "astern and the other to western subjects. The present volume of the western section will ontain, among other illustrations, views of the grand and peculiar scenery of the Mississippi river, from its origin at Itasca Lake down to its mouth, below New Orleans. In a similar manner the volume of the eastern section will represent only such subjects from the sea-board States as are most striking and truly American.

But if excellence has thus been aimed at in the engravings, the literary department also will have every attention bestowed upon it. No expense has been spared to render the work in this respect also a national monument. Many of the best and popular writers of the country are engaged as regular contributors, and the editorial direction of the whole has been entrusted to the care of Mr. Charles A. With the last numbers each subscriber or purchaser of the two volumes, will receive to each section of the work an allegoric title page, executed in a high style of art, and as a premium, a magnificent steel engraving, 36 by 25 inches, rep-resenting The Battle of Bunker Hill, from Trum-

ARPER'S NEW MONTHLY MAGAzine has now reached a monthly edition of over One Hundred and Twenty-five Thousand copies, and the demand for it is still increasing with greater rapidity than ever. This unparalleied and unexpected success has compelled the publishers to resort to extraordinary means for printing the work with the requisite rapidity, and at the same time preserving the typographical ele-gance by which it has always been distinguished. It is now electrotyped by a new process, which makes it easy to print any number of copies from the same plates, without in the least impairing the clearness and beauty of the impression. The publishers desire to repeat their cordial acknowledgments to the press and the public for the ex-raordinary favor which has thus far attended their efforts to interest and instruct the great body of the American people, and to renew their as-surances that every possible effort will be made to increase still further the claims of their magazine upon public favor and support. It will con-tinue to present, at the cheapest price, the most interesting and instructive literary matter, original and selected, domestic and foreign, in the most elegant and convenient style, and accompanied by the finest pictorial illustrations which a lavish ex-penditure of money can command. They appeal with confidence to the past, as a guarantee that their promises for the future will be abundantly falfilled.

WASHINGTON, October 19, 1853. PROPOSALS will be received at this office until 6 P. M. of the 20th December next, for turnishing bricks for the construction of the Wash ington aqueduct.

The whole quantity needed will probably be about forty millions. Proposals should state the quantity which each bidder will undertake to furnish.

The bricks must be delivered at such points of the line as may from time to time be designated by the engineer. The time and quantities will depend upon the appropriation made by Congress. There are large deposites of clay suitable for making bricks along the line, and the contractor will be required to furnish a sample of the clay and bricks before commencing the manufacture. None but well made hard burnt bricks, entirely acceptable to the engineer, will be received, and they will be required to be made in moulds conforming in size to the municipal regulations of the city of Washington.

Every offer must be accompanied by a written guaranty, signed by one or more responsible persons, to the effect that he or they undertake that the bidder or bidders will, if his or their bid be accepted, enter into an obligation within ten days, with good and sufficient sureties, to furnish the bricks offered. PATENT GAS REGULATOR.—The inventor (Dr. Kidder) of this economical and useful instrument deserves the thanks of the gasconsuming community. The saving effected by the use of it will be found fully 25 per cent. in every person's gas bill. It can be so adjusted as to supply the gas at any desired pressure less than that of the street, and when once adjusted, the Regulator will continue to supply the gas at that pressure uniformly, without requiring further care or attention, and independent of all the fluctuations of the street pressure. An additional advantage obtained by this Regulator is a light of a more agreeable quality, in place of the bluish white color of the ordinary gas light, occasioned by the high pressure at which the gas is consumed. As an evidence of its practical utility, it is now in operation in some of the principal hotels and large stores in New York city, who all bear favorable testimony to its value. It has also received the united commendations of the press.

THE GLOBE:

THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF CONGRESS AND NEWSPAPER FOR THE PEOPLE.

It will be seen by the annexed extract from a letter of General Washington to David Stewart, dated New York, 17th March, 1790, that the idea of such a paper as I propose to make the Globe originated in the mind of the Father of his Country. He said:

"It is to be lamented that the editors of the different diasettes in the Union do not more generally and more correctly (instead of stuffing their papers with scurrility and nonsensical declamation, which few would read if they were apprised of the contents) publish the debates in Congress on all great national questions. The principles upon which the difference of opinion arises, as well as the decisions, would then come fully before the public, and afford the best data for its judgment."—Sparks's Writings of Washington, vol. 10, p. 84. THE PAILY GLOBE AND THE CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE

THE PALLY GLOBE AND THE CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE In surrendering Lay interest. the organ of great political party, I cherished the purpose continuing the Congressional Globe, and, if possible, in time, to perfect it into a full history of the action of Congress, giving the debates accurately and fully with the proceedings—all stamped with the verity of an official record. From the passage in the letter of General Washington, which I have musted, it will be perceived that he thought this in the letter of General Washington, which I have quoted, it will be perceived that he thought this office might be combined with that of a regular newspaper; and it is certain that the avidity of the public for news of the less important kind greatly contributes to give wing to the weightier matter which may be called Congressional news.

Having succeeded in my purpose of perfecting the reports of the debates in Congress and giving them the official stamp, I now propose to send them abroad, in connection with the news of the day, in such haste as shall outstrip full and accurate intelligence sent from the seat of Government in any other form whatever. It will even anticipate the scraps of news forwarded to cities within in any other form whatever. It will even anticipate the scraps of news forwarded to cities within two hundred and fifty miles of Washington by telegraph. Before the events thus transmitted are published in the morning papers, (for instance, of the city of New York,) the Globe containing them will have reached the post office of that city by the Express Mail of the previous night. The process by which this will be effected I now lay before the public.

I will have a corps of sixteen Reporters in Congress; each in succession will take notes during five minutes, then retire, prepare them for the Press, put them slip by slip in the hands of compositors, and thus, while a debate is going on in Congress, it will be put in type, and in a few minutes after it is ended it will be in print. I shall by this means, be enabled to send by the Express Mail of 5 o'clock p. m. for the East, West, and North, and by that of 9 o'clock p. m. for the South, all the proceedings of Congress up to the ordinary hour of adjournment. Thus the accurate debates of Congress will reach the cities two hundred and fifty miles from the Capitol before their daily morning papers are in circulation.

The miscellaneous news I shall be careful to gather from remote sections of the country by telegraph. I will obtain from the Executive Departments, through official sources, the matters of moment transacted in them, and through agents employed for the purpose, all the city news of consequence in sufficient time to be put into the Globe and mailed in the Express Mail trains. In this way I hope to create a new era in the dissemination of news from Washington. Hitherto no newspaper has attempred to give authentic accounts of I will have a corps of sixteen Reporters in Con-and mailed in the Express Mail trains. In this way I hope to create a new era in the dissemination of news from Washington. Hitherto no newspaper has attempted to give authentic accounts of things done at Washington before the public mind at a distance had received its first impressions form irresponsible telegraphic dispatches, or by letter-writers biased by peculiar views.

Washington has now become so great a centre of pelitical interest during all the year—the proceedings of the Executive Departments and the information collected by them even during the recess of Congress is of so much importance to the interests of every section of the country—that I shall continue the publication of the daily paper permanently, with a view to become the vehicle of the earliest and most correct intelligence.

It is part of my plan to reduce the price of the daily paper to half that of similar daily papers; and thus I hope to extend its circulation so as to invite advertisements. I will publish advertisements of the Government. To subscribers in the cities I hope to submit such terms as will induce them to advertise their business in every village through-out the Union, where the Globe is sent daily under the franks of members of Congress, all of whom take it, and some of them a large number of copies. The installation of a new Administration and a ew Congress portends much change in the course f public affairs as the result of the next session to be introduced by the interposition of the agita-tions of Europe. After nearly forty years of peace in Europe there is an evident restlessness that now seems fraught with tendencies threatening war; and if war comes, in all likelihood there will follow such universal change that the United States can scarcely hope to escape its vortex. Indeed can scarcely hope to escape its vortex. Indeed from late events it is apparent that our government is already drawn into European difficulties. These circumstances are calculated to draw the public mind towards the next Congress with much ex-The DAILY GLOBE will be printed on fine paper double royal size, with small type, (brevier and nonpareil,) at five dollars a year.

The Congressional Glore will also be printed on a double royal sheet, in book form, royal quarto size, each number containing sixteen pages. The Congressional Globe proper will be made up of the proceedings of Congress and the running debates as given by the P. up of the proceedings of Congress and the running debates as given by the Reporters. The speeches which members may choose to write out themselves will, together with the messages of the President of the United States, the reports of the Executive Departments, and the laws passed by Congress, be added in an Appendix. Formerly I received subscriptions for the Congressional Globe and Appendix separately. But this has not been found satisfactory, inasmuch as it gave an incomplete view of the transactions in Congress; and therefore I have concluded not to sell them apart, considering that neighbors can have the advantage of both by clubbing, in case individuals shall find it too onerous to be at the charge of both.

To facilitate the circulation of the Congressional Globe, and cheapen it to subscribers, Congress passed last year a joint resolution making it free of postage. I annex it, as the law may not be accessible to postmasters generally:

Joint Resolution providing for the distribution of the Laws

Joint Resolution providing for the distribution of the Laws of Congress and the Debates thereon.

With a view to the cheap circulation of the laws of Congress and the debates contributing to the true interpretation thereof, and to make free the communication between the representative and constituent bodies:

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress, she Congressional Globe and Appendix, which contains the laws and the debates thereon, shall pass free through the mails so long as the same shall be published by order of Congress: Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to authorize the circulation of the Daily Globe free of postage.

similar publications, so the Congressional Globe and Appendix is sold for half the cost of so much and APPENDIX is sold for half the cost of so much composition, press-work, and paper. This I can afford to do, inasmuch as the subscription of Congress almost covers the cost of composition, and this enables me to sell for little more than the cost of press-work and paper. It requires the sale of about 9,000 copies to reimburse expenses. If 500 only were sold, the cost of each copy would be about $104! The debates in the English Parliament cost about eleven times as much as I charge subscribers for the debates in Congress, equal in quantity, and as well reported and printed.

subscribers for the debates in Congress, equal in quantity, and as well reported and printed.

The next session of Congress will be a long one; and it is believed the Congressional Globe for it will reach 4,000 royal quarto pages, as the last long session made 3,842; and the long one before that made 3,901 royal quarto pages—four large volumes each session. If subscribers will be careful to file all the numbers received by them, I will be careful to file all the numbers received by them. ful to file all the numbers received by them, I will supply any that may miscarry in the mails. This work increases in value as it grows old. The first seventeen volumes will now command three times, and some of the subsequent ones twice, their original subscription price.

The subscription price for the Congressional Globe (including the Appendix and the laws) is six dollars.

Globe (including the Appendix and six dollars.

Complete indexes will be made out and forwarded to subscribers soon after the session is ended Subscribers for the Daily should have their money here by the 5th, and for the Congressional Globe by the 15th of December. The money must accompany an order for either the Daily or the Congressional Globe. Bank notes current where a subscriber resides will be received at par.
